DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/35 USC 103

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-4 and 7-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Samaranayake et al (6,743,514).

Samaranayake et al teaches radiation curable inkjet compositions. Said composition comprises 10 to about 60--wt% of a water-reducible oligomer having at least two acrylate groups, from 10 to about 50—wt% of a monomer having at least one ethylenically unsaturated groups and at least one quaternary ammonium group, from 1.0 to about 20—wt% of a water-insoluble cationically modified acrylic latex, up to about 20—wt% of a surfactant, and the balance being water in amounts from 35 to 97—wt%. Additionally, for colored compositions pigment can be added in customary amounts. Curing can be done by irradiation in the presence of a photoinitiator—see column 5, wherein per example these appear to be added in amounts of at least 3 parts by weight. While Samaranayake et al does not expressly teach using a photoinitiator and the pigment in the amounts claimed by applicant, the examiner deems that one of ordinary skill in the art would have found it obvious to add a pigment and photoinitiators in the amounts as claimed by applicant. The motivation would have been a reasonable expectation of obtaining a visibly colored coating with an adequate curing time. Samaranayake et al teaches radiation curable surfactant can be used in the compositions as the surfactant—see column 5, lines 47-48. These compositions are deemed to anticipate by and/or read in the reference. Therefore the surface tensions as found in claims 8-9 are deemed to be inherent to the composition.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 5-6 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art fails to teach reactive surfactants having the claimed HLB values as claimed in photocurable pigment compositions.
